SYNOPSIS:

We are pleased to inform you of our forthcoming BIM Implementation Workshop (BIW) jointly organized by SIA and Xcube Solutions Pte Ltd.

BIW serves to provide management & decision maker a comprehensive introductory to BIM implementation which focuses on the fundamental knowledge of BIM concepts and requirements.

This 2-day program aims to provide Management and Project Managers essential BIM knowledge to effectively apply and roll out every business’s BIM planning and implementation. The topics covered in the program includes BIM management planning; understanding of hardware and software requirements; BIM training methodology; how to start a BIM project; BIM standards and practice; introduction to BIM execution plan and many other BIM management topics.

TRAINERS:

Jim Tan

Xcube Solutions Pte Ltd

Mr. Jim Tan is a registered Architect and the founding principal of Xcube Architects & Xcube Solutions Pte Ltd.
Graduated with architectural degrees from NUS and Australia, Jim has always been interested in technology and information management for the building practice. Before the term BIM was coined in the industry, Jim has already extensively explored and experimented with the several concepts and solutions in this area.

In 2006, he was part of the project team implementing BIM to the Brunei government for Autodesk Consulting. In this project he provided training, customisation, workflow implementation and solutions integration to convert the users from a 2D environment to BIM.

He is also part of the pilot team involved in BCA BIM e-submission in late 2008 in which he trained a participating firm to use the BIM software and the preparation of BIM content for submission within a 3 months program.

In 2010, Jim formed Xcube Solutions Pte Ltd to share and educate his experience in BIM and has since provided BIM solutions for building owners, consultants and contractors.
