1-Day Seminar on
Ensuring Safe Design and Construction - Contraventions and Enforcement (In Compliance with Building Control Act & Regulations)

In a densely built-up area like Singapore, special attention should be paid to ensure construction works are designed and carried out safely, so as not to compromise the safety of the workers, the public, as well as the surrounding buildings. It is therefore important for the stakeholders of the industry to comply with regulations and follow good practices while performing construction works.

In this seminar, experienced speakers from regulatory agencies such as BCA, MOM and NEA will share on the common contraventions detected on sites and the enforcement actions taken to reduce such incidents. Information on how proper design and construction works can be carried out such that the works will not cause danger to the public/workers or damage to the surrounding properties will also be shared.
