The upcoming Singapore Construction Productivity Week 2014 is an annual event for the built environment sector to share knowledge on construction productivity, as well as learn from best practices and new technologies.

The Singapore Construction Productivity Week (SCPW) will be held during the National Productivity Month, from 13 to 16 October 2014 at Singapore EXPO and Max Atria. SCPW presents a great platform for suppliers, developers, architects, consultants and builders to come together and exchange ideas in transforming the built environment sector into one that is integrated, technologically-advanced and productive.

Visit www.scpw.sg to register for events and get more information.

Follow the trail of 7 Highly Effective Technologies

Smart construction
Smart materials
Prefabricated M&E systems
Prefabricated architectural systems
Prefabricated structural systems
Construction IT
Building Information Model (BIM)

SCPW will continue to focus on seven technologies and processes identified to play important roles in transforming construction productivity through the use of information technology, prefabrication and smart construction/materials.

For more details on the key events in SCPW, please contact:

Key Events of Singapore Construction Productivity Week

Build Smart Conference 2014 (14 –15 October)

After drawing close to 2,000 delegates to its first three runs, the 4th edition of Build Smart Conference returns on 14 - 15 October 2014. Organised by Building and Construction Authority, Singapore, the 2-day conference provides an excellent platform for industrial practitioners and academics from around the world to share and learn about the trends in construction productivity.

Featuring members from the BCA-Productivity International Panel of Experts (IPE), and prominent local & international speakers, the Build Smart Conference 2014 will cover two distinctive themes: “Productivity with Modern Technologies and Processes' for Day 1 of the conference and “Innovate-Integrate-Transform with BIM” for Day 2.

Skilled Builders Competition (14 –15 October)

Since the launch of the Skilled Builders Competition in 2011, the event has attracted many builders to participate in different productive trades to demonstrate the good practices and efficient construction methods. This year, the competition will focus on the Prefabricated Bathroom Unit (PBU). Competitors will demonstrate their ability in fitting out a PBU. This one-and-a-half day event will test the multiple trade skills and coordination of the team, to showcase the productivity benefits of the PBU.

BIM Shoot-Out (15 September –15 October)

In line with this year’s SCPW, is the inaugural BIM Shoot-Out 2014. It is a 2.5-hour BIM competition that aims to test the modelling proficiency of students. It is open to all registered students in Institutes of Higher Learning (IHL), in Architectural, Structural and Mechanical, Electrical and Plumbing (MEP) categories.

Join the challenge. Join the fun. Be the first “BIM Shoot-Out Champion”

Productivity Race (16 October)

The 2nd run of the Productivity Race offers the opportunity to instill productivity awareness among the participants through an engaging and interactive platform. It aims to create awareness of BCA’s productivity initiatives including incentive schemes under the Construction Productivity and Capability Fund (CPCF), impart learning of productivity concepts in an “informal” setting and identify productive technologies and systems commonly adopted in built environment sector.

BuildTech Asia 2014 (14 –16 October)

The 4th edition of BuildTech Asia focuses on technologies that address the challenges of building and construction in different vertical industries.
1. By 2025, the volume of construction output is forecasted to grow by over 70% to $15 trillion worldwide.

2. The construction market is growing at 6% annually. A new generation of Asian Tigers - Indonesia, Vietnam & Philippines represent $350 billion in construction market.

3. By 2020, there will be a 15% increase in construction spending in Southeast Asia.

Visitors who successfully pre-register will stand a chance to win a one-day conference pass to attend Facilities Management Conference worth S$360!

Meet a wide range of practitioners, technology experts, major industry players, traders and distributors from across varied segments in buildings, engineering, procurement and construction, research development and more!

It is a topical issue to be sustainable in the future - there is increased focus on how businesses and human activities can have on the environment. Businesses are expected to lead in the area of environment sustainability as they are the biggest contributors and are also in a position to promote sustainable practices.

The Singapore Contractors Association and SCAL Academy with the support from Sphere Exhibits are pleased to organize a One-day Conference on Environment Sustainability with the theme, “Building Sustainably”. The conference will highlight topics from sustainable designs and practices to improving energy efficiency and the use of green building materials.

The Conference will be held concurrently with BuildTech Asia, at the Singapore Expo MAX Atria, the first Convention and Exhibition Centre in Singapore to receive the prestigious BCA Green Mark Platinum Award.
