1-Day BCA-SPM Seminar on
Emerging Project Management Trends of this Decade

Introduction
BCA and the Society of Project Managers (SPM) collaborate annually to jointly organise an annual seminar on a selected theme that is pertinent to project management professionals. This year, we are proposing to organise a Project Management Seminar on 3 Oct 2012 on the theme, “Emerging Project Management Trends of this Decade”. The seminar aims to provide a learning and networking platform for industry professionals to discuss relevant current issues faced by project managers today.

Objectives
The objectives of this seminar are to:
• Equip the participants with necessary knowledge to enhance productivity through adoption of technology, good governance and management practices.
• Acquire a greater awareness of how to improve productivity and reduce cost through early contractors’ involvement.
• Discuss the burning issues and essence of managing complexity and uncertainty in project management.
• Highlight the global initiatives to advance project management and international business.
