By popular demand, we are presenting a one-off, repeat of this seminar.

As part of BCA’s Construction Productivity Roadmap, it has imposed a progressive regulatory mandate to drive widespread Building Information Modeling (BIM) adoption in a 5-year plan, since 2010. The Regulatory approval of structural and MEP plans using BIM will begin in 2014 for all new building projects with GFA above 20,000m².

Benefit From the BCA BIM Funding When You Move to BIM Now.

Join us at this ACES members seminar to learn how BIM can help you win new business, influence design decisions from the earliest stage with an intelligent model-based workflow; make informed decisions with integrated analysis tools on the desktop and in the cloud as well as collaborate more effectively with project stakeholders.

Find out how you can benefit from BCA BIM funding, which aims to help firms to adopt BIM technology into their work processes and improve their productivity by defraying part of the cost incurred in training, consultancy, software or hardware.
