Invitation for Registration

Seminar on
Total WSH for the Construction Industry

19 November 2014 • 2.00pm - 5.30pm

Total Workplace Safety and Health (Total WSH) is an integrated approach to managing safety, health and wellbeing in the workplace. This approach views a safe and healthy workplace as one that has workers and managers collaborating in a continual improvement process to protect and promote the health, safety, and wellbeing of all workers and the sustainability of the workplace.

This seminar provides a platform for discussion among WSH and construction industry personnel on how Total WSH concepts can be effectively applied to construction projects.

Seminar Topics

1. Total WSH for the Construction Industry
   Ms Eunice Yong, Senior Research Analyst, WSH Institute

2. Integrated WSH - The Importance of Occupational Hygiene
   Prof. Rob Aitken, Managing Director, IOM Singapore

   Dr Karen Cheong, Deputy Director, Health Promotion Board

4. Nurturing Progressive and Pervasive WSH Culture in SMEs in Construction Industry
   Mr Bhupendra Singh Ballyan, Senior Manager (Group EHS), Samwoh Corporation

For more information and registration, please click here.

For enquiries or feedback, please email us at bca_academy@bca.gov.sg. Visit the BCA Academy’s website now for other seminars/courses details.