Dear colleagues and partners,

Transformation is the word of the year as BCA steers the built environment sector forward with the launch of the Construction Industry Transformation Map (ITM) in October 2017. As the lead agency for Singapore’s built environment, BCA constantly seeks new and innovative ways to work with our industry partners and stakeholders to build a future-ready Singapore. The setting up of our transformation office - BuildSG - serves as a platform for closer collaboration with Trade Associations and Chambers (TACs), firms, Institutes of Higher Learning and unions.

The year’s Annual Report outlines the Built Environment’s transformation journey as BCA continues to champion a safe, high quality, sustainable and friendly built environment. The transformation journey begins with the ITM in four key focus areas – Green Building, Design for Manufacturing and Assembly (DFMA), Integrated Digital Delivery (IDD) and workforce development. We also highlighted BCA’s research and innovation efforts to improve productivity and greening of the built environment.

Besides transforming the built environment sector, we believe that shaping the sector’s future begins from within. The annual report shares our achievements and excellence in the areas of customer service, corporate social responsibility, and human capital development. These are achieved by empowering our people to lead the way in transformation and innovation.

Read on to find out how BCA is "Transforming The Way We BuildSG ... Together".

Yours sincerely
